Dear Ms. Wilson,

Thank you for giving us the tour of the radio stations. It was cool how they had that one control board in each room that they could do almost everything on. I liked the idea of having the secret sound, and how odd the things you used are. It was cool to listen to everything they were saying on the radio, when they were saying right in front of us. I didn't know they used to have to wind up long tapes to play things, and that they can take a microphone somewhere else and get the secret sound and bring it back and record it.

Yours truly,

Attention All Radio Listeners!

By: Daniel Flowers, Den 13

Have you ever wondered what life is like in a radio station? When you listen on the radio, did you think that the people that broadcast do a lot of things? Or have you ever wondered what the broadcasters look like?

Well..... On 10-2-03, the "Cavaliers" (formerly known as Den 13) went to Infinity Broadcasting Station in Greenway Plaza. There we saw four different radio stations all owned and run by Infinity Broadcasting. The four stations included a Soft Jazz Station, a business station, a Sports station and a Country Music station.

When the "On-Air" light was on, people were not allowed to go in or out of the room, and if you were already in the room, we had to be super quiet. All four stations had rooms that the broadcasters talked on the radio. The equipment in each room included microphones, computers, chairs, and a big desk with all sorts of switches and buttons. The tour of these stations was awesome and helped us learn more about communication. ♦

Cavaliers Tour Radio Station

By: Ben Lee, Den 13

The Den 13 Cavaliers toured Infinity Radio stations on the 19th floor of Greenway Plaza on Thursday, October 2, to learn about radio stations and to earn the Communicator pin. Infinity Radio includes several kinds of stations: sports, jazz, country-western, and business.

The tour guide's name was Lauren Wilson. She took us to the stations' rooms which had lights outside the door that indicated if the DJ was "on-air" or not. In the rooms, there was a big board with several lights: Emergency, On-air, Stand-by, and more.

We got to see two DJs talking live on the radio. We had to be very quiet but my mom's phone rang while the DJ was talking! We saw the room where the Secret Sounds are recorded. We met the DJ named Rowdy on KILT.

At the end of the tour we got KILT and Houston Texans tattoos. It was very fun, and you might get the chance to be on the radio if you take the tour with your den! ♦

Hey John,

Thanks again for letting me call in after the golf ball drop! and thanks for driving out there. I'm glad you got to play!

Who do I need to talk to get on your public affairs show and plug the tournament? We need teams badly! I left a message for Pat Hernandez but haven't heard back yet.

Also, what is Wendy's number at work. I want to meet her for lunch.

Kent,

Thank you for your very heart felt e-mail.

We are very sorry to hear about the loss of your wife and we are honored that you would share such a personal story with us. We are very proud to be teamed up with David Carr to promote awareness of breast cancer and what women and men can do to avoid the terrible toll the disease takes.

I will be sure to share your message with David Carr, as well as with John, Lance and the Morning Crew. I know that they join me in thanking you for allowing us to hear your message.

All of us at SportsRadio 610 wish you the best in the future.

It is with a grateful heart that I write to thank you for your efforts in raising awareness along with David Carr about breast cancer, a disease that is taking too many precious women AND men away from families, friends, and the community at large.

KIET-AM
(PF)

I lost the love of my life, my beautiful wife Melissa, last year on Sunday, December 15, 2002, after spending the worst eleven days of our life together at M.D. Anderson Cancer Center in Houston.

At age 32, Melissa was way too young to have died from breast cancer. Though we never had children, Melissa left so many people that cared for her, friends that still love her and miss her, and an eight-year career at JP Morgan Chase where she ultimately achieved the title of Assistant Vice President.

As the statistics now show, one out of seven women will be diagnosed with breast cancer during their lifetime. Those are beyond epidemic numbers. After being involved with Melissa's fight for 2.5 years, it is so apparent that even though there are defined risk factors, the disease is, in fact, indiscriminate in nature...it can affect anyone at any time.

Though doctors urge women to start getting mammograms at age forty, I would urge anyone close to you to push for both mammograms and sonograms well before that time. Most cancer goes undetected for five to ten years before diagnosis, however with the proper tests, a person has a much better chance of survival.

If there is anything I can personally do to assist Sports Radio 610 in your efforts, please let me know. I'm a faithful listener of all of your daytime programming...keep up the great work!

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Morris:

The storm is gone but our appreciation of your help continues to grow. Our gratitude for your generous gifts and donations during the recovery from Tropical Storm Allison's devastation is enormous. As we continue our work in the recovery process, we are amazed at the magnitude of the job. This effort truly is God's work and we thank you for partnering with us to accomplish this enormous task. Houstonians are truly remarkable.

Because of you and friends like you, The Salvation Army has to date provided over $13 million worth of service value. During our relief efforts, we served over 327,000 individuals, and your gift and contribution played a vital role in this process. We are humbled and grateful for your benevolent spirit of support.

Enclosed is our recent newsletter that covers the emergency disaster relief efforts. On behalf of The Salvation Army, the disaster team, and the many thousands of flood victims - we thank you. One small effort to recognize your contribution and unyielding spirit will be an appreciation luncheon next January. This will be held on January 11, 2002, so mark your calendars. We will have an event sponsored by Houston's leaders to showcase the International Leader of The Salvation Army, General John Gowans, and present to him an involved and caring community of Houstonians. You will be receiving further information on this event in the near future.

God Bless You,

Dear Brent:

We enjoyed doing the telephone interview with you on Friday morning, February 1, concerning the status of the blood supply. We appreciated your excellent preparation and questions, and we've heard several donors indicate they decided to donate because of the story you aired.

With patients in the 200 healthcare facilities using about 2,000 units of blood and blood components each and every day, maintaining an adequate blood supply is quite a challenge. Complicating the process is the fact that blood doesn't last very long after its donated (red blood cells 42 days and platelets 5 days), so some of the challenges in maintaining the supply are obvious. However, when a few major users (200 units per patient) occur at one time, it can significantly stress the inventory.

Thanks to your support, inventory levels are beginning to move back toward normal, but this would not have happened without your support. Please relay to all those at Business Radio 650 our sincere appreciation, and we look forward to working with you.

Dear Brent,

Thank you for doing such a terrific job as guest host of "Money Matters" at Space Center Houston! Astronauts Bobko and Reightler were wonderful guests, but with the preparation and skill that you brought to the taping the interviews were unquestionably more interesting. I look forward to seeing the segment when it airs on the Municipal Channel.

As you know, the Municipal Channel has "blacked out" programming hosted by elected officials until after Election Day, November 6. After that, we will receive a schedule of air dates and times for the "Money Matters" segment. My office will notify you as soon as we are informed. Additionally, portions of the Space Center Houston segment will complete the one-hour NASA/Johnson Space Center "Money Matters" special. That air date and time will be shared with you also.

You are a great interviewer and a wonderful friend. I appreciate the opportunity to work with you on these special "Money Matters" and each month on Business Radio. Please do not hesitate to contact me if I may ever be of assistance to you.

Dear Pat,

It's over. The 2001 Steppin' Out In Style luncheon/fashion show is history, and I can't believe it is so. Even more unbelievable is the huge victory that was achieved --the nearly $200,000 in ticket sales, proceeds for the Star of Hope Children's Critical Care Program. And none of it would have happened without you and the rest of our media friends.

I can never adequately express my gratitude to you for your commitment of time, talent and especially your heart. And I must add patience, too. You were very understanding about the parking problems. I apologize for the confusion and inconvenience regarding the Scurlock Tower Garage. We did not expect to encounter such difficulty. But you were gracious in the face of it, and the show went on to be a great success.

Your participation brought many blessings to Star of Hope and to this occasion, taking the second annual luncheon/fashion show to a level only the Lord could have imagined. In fact, there was so much enthusiasm and support for the show that we had to turn people away, because we quickly exhausted our ability to provide seating. You have made the fashion show much more than a venue for displaying the latest in designer clothing, you have given the show a special character and quality.

Thank you for being available for the thousands of homeless children that come to Star of Hope. Thank you for standing in gap with us for them during their most difficult time of life. The Children's Critical Care Program will be stronger than ever, ensuring the continuation of the wonderful care homeless youngsters need. I pray that God will bless you in all your comings and goings, just as you have blessed the way of others.

Together Giving Hope,

National Broadcasting Society
21st Annual Leadership Conference

Monday, April 16th
Sam Houston State University
SHSU Criminal Justice Center Complex

I am delighted you can participate in the 21st Annual Leadership Conference on Monday, April 16th. Since the Lowman Student Center is being renovated, all of our sessions will take place in the Criminal Justice Center.

There will be a hospitality/registration table setup in the main foyer at 8am. Sessions will begin at 9am. We will be using the Courtroom, Bates Room and Blackwood Room. Each is equipped with a TV/VCR, overhead projector & screen and a microphone. Please let me know if you need any additional media support ASAP.

Again, because of location, we will not have a sit-down luncheon this year, but will have an informal picnic lunch from 11:30 - 1:15. Please let me know if you will be able to "break bread" with us, as I need a headcount for catering.

Sessions are 50 minutes each, some with just one presentation and others with 2-3. Please bring business cards to pass along to the students, if you'd like us to make handouts, send them ahead of your visit & we can xerox them.

I will send parking information to you a week before the conference. As always, the parking is YUCKY, but you should find something near the Beto Criminal Justice Center now that construction is finished.

Dear Brent:

Thank you so much for attending the 2001 Legislative Conference!

I know how hard it is for you to get away from your tremendous work load to attend these events. However, as you witnessed at the Legislative Conference, a majority of the political power structure was present at this event to meet you.

Your attendance at these events is an asset to TAB and the Texas Broadcast industry as a whole.

Meeting one-on-one with lawmakers from your area will help us if and when we need you to call on them during this legislative session.

We are continuing our watch for troublesome legislation and will keep you informed. Continue to watch your fax machine and the TAB website for important information.

Again, thank you for being a leader in your community and giving your time to protect yourself and help protect others.

Respectfully,

Ann Arnold
Executive Director

Re: OUTAGE BROADCAST SERVICES

Dear Mr. Clanton:

The management of Sam Houston Electric Cooperative appreciates the fact that KIKK-AM Business Radio 650 has agreed to be one of our communication partners in the event a major power outage occurs in your marketplace. While no one wants to be the victim of a power outage, everyone who finds themselves in the dark wants to know what happened and when to expect to see their lights on again. For this reason, we thank you for your help.

Should a power outage occur that affects part(s) of your listening/ viewing area for an extended time period, we will provide you pertinent information to communicate regarding the source and duration of the outage. (You will receive this information via the method you requested on the Emergency Outage Program Questionnaire you recently returned to us.) If you need additional information regarding a particular outage situation, please feel free to contact me at 936-328-1290.

Despite our desire to promptly restore power to our customers, the restoration process can be time consuming depending on the initial source of the outage. To help you understand more about electricity generation, transmission and distribution; and what's involved in the restoration process, we have enclosed some materials for your review:

- "Dial Up & Tune-In" and "How to Make Light of a Dark Situation" these informational brochures were recently distributed to our customers;
- January 2001 issue of Texas Co-op Magazine, which features two articles: "The Power of a Single Switch" and "Let's Get to the Source"

At Sam Houston Electric Cooperative, we believe that dependable service includes the dissemination of appropriate information to our customers. Thanks to your station, we can keep our customers informed and out of the dark. We appreciate your willingness to help us.

Yours truly,

Keith Stapleton
Communications Liaison

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Dear Bunt,

Scout Fair was great! Thank you for all your help with the Pinewood Derby Race. The Cub Scouts that participated had a great time and were thrilled to meet all of you.

I know that your time is the most valuable donation you can give, and it was greatly appreciated. Thank you again, and we would love to have you participate next year.

Sincerely,
Kirstin

Leadership Houston Announces Speakers for Leadership Briefing

HOUSTON (April 31, 2001) — Dr. Malcolm Gillis, president of Rice University and internationally known economist, will give opening remarks at the third annual Leadership Briefing sponsored by Leadership Houston. The symposium will be at the James A. Baker III Institute for Public Policy of Rice University on May 17. The Honorable Bob Lanier will be the keynote speaker. The theme of this year's symposium is "Economic Leadership for Houston in Good Times and Bad."

The moderator for the event will be Brent Clanton of Business Radio 650. Panelists include Loretta Cross, Partner, Pricewaterhouse Coopers; J. Philip Ferguson, Senior Investment Officer, AIM Capital Management, Inc.; Professor Peter Hartley, Chair of Economic Department, Rice University; Hugh Rice Kelly, Executive Vice President and General Counsel, Reliant Energy; Richard Everett, Chairman and CEO, Century Development; Bill Gilmer, Senior Economist and Vice President, Federal Reserve Bank; Robby E. Shelton, Regional President, Frost Bank; and Blake Young, President, Global Technology, Dynegy. Discussion will include the outlook for the Houston economy during times of national and international expansion and contraction, and the role leaders can play to increase Houston's economic resilience.

Registration begins at 12:30. The briefing will begin at 1:00, and there will be a networking reception from 5:30-6:30 p.m. Registration is $50 for Leadership Houston members and $100 for nonmembers. There is limited seating, so advance reservations are required. You may make reservations by calling (713) 529-8392 or visiting the Leadership Houston web site at www.leadershiphouston.org.

Leadership Houston, founded in 1981, is a non-profit community leadership development organization that creates leadership in action by identifying existing and emerging leaders representative of the greater Houston community. Each year, Leadership Houston, selects a class of leaders who are trained throughout the year to develop and enhance their leadership skills and to better understand and address the complex issues facing the Houston area. Class members are selected based on their involvement in and commitment to their communities.
